

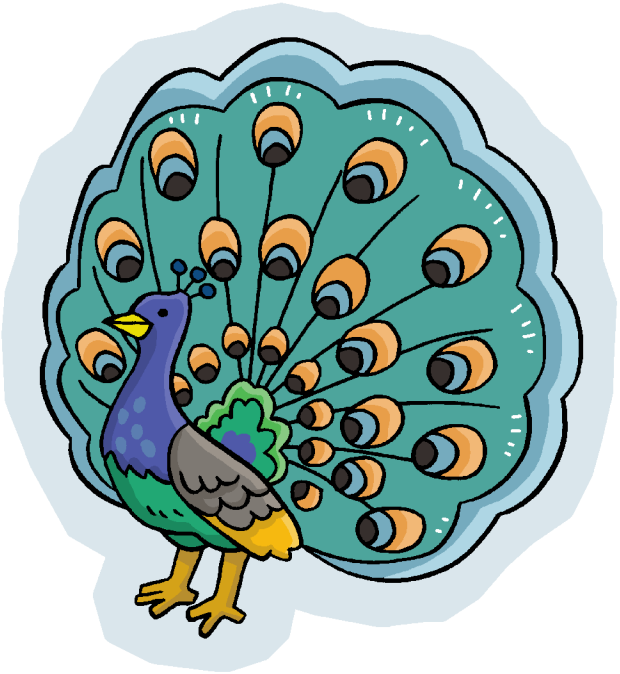
Birds in the Bible – Peacock

A peacock—as portrayed in this picture—is a male peafowl. The female is known as a peahen, and the chicks are called peachicks.
Peacocks have been known throughout history for their beautiful display of tail feathers.

The peacock is mentioned in the Bible in the time of Solomon, explaining that King Solomon would send his vessels to distant countries, which would return every three years carrying precious or unusual goods such as gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks. (1 Kings 10:22.)

God asked Job: “Did you give the goodly (beautiful) wings unto the peacocks?” (Paraphrased from the King James Version of Job 39:13.)



Illustrations by Didier Martin - Copyright © 2024 by Didier Martin
www.mylittlehouse.org - https://blog-mylittlehouse.weebly.com/
Permission granted to print for personal use only. Distribution is prohibited.

part to glue on the back corners
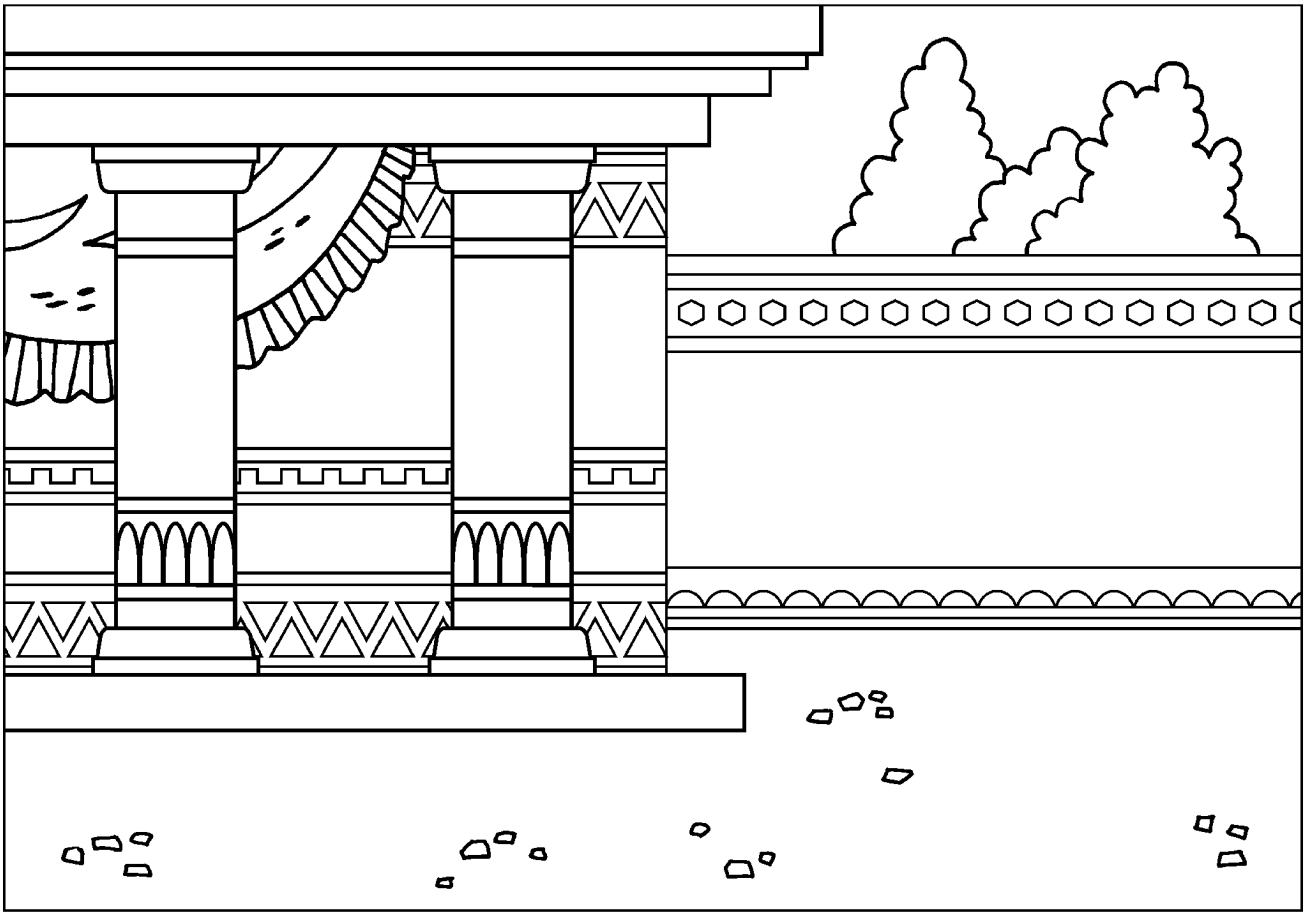
parts for the frame

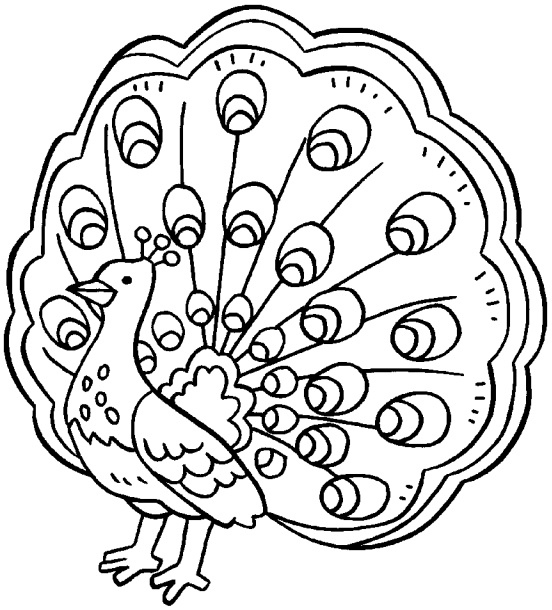


Birds in the Bible – Peacock

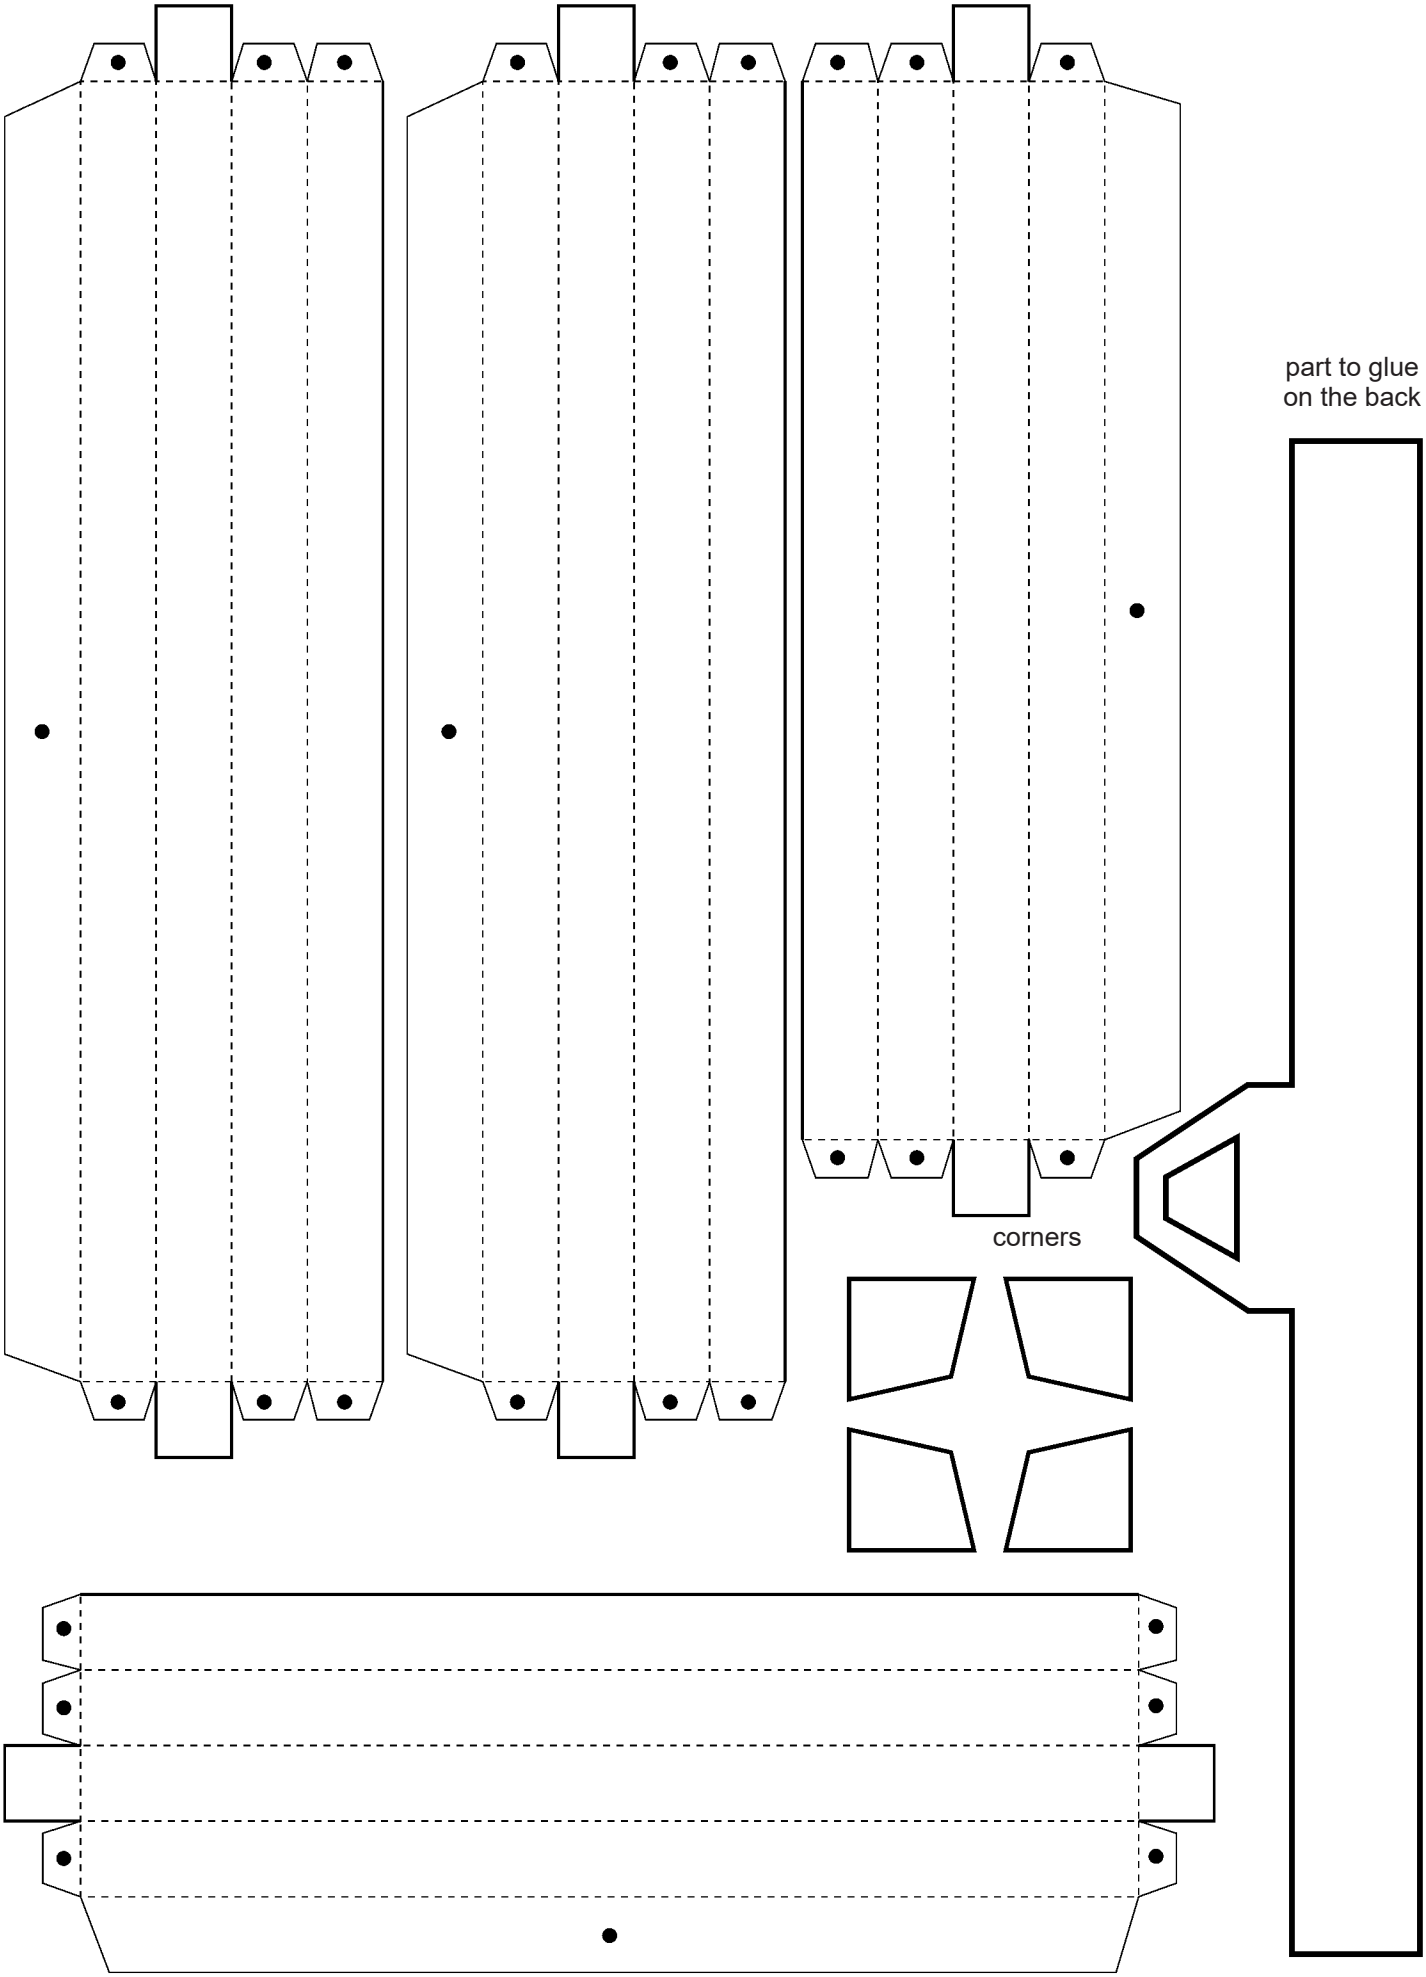
A peacock—as portrayed in this picture—is a male peafowl. The female is known as a peahen, and the chicks are called peachicks.
Peacocks have been known throughout history for their beautiful display of tail feathers.

The peacock is mentioned in the Bible in the time of Solomon, explaining that King Solomon would send his vessels to distant countries, which would return every three years carrying precious or unusual goods such as gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks. (1 Kings 10:22.)

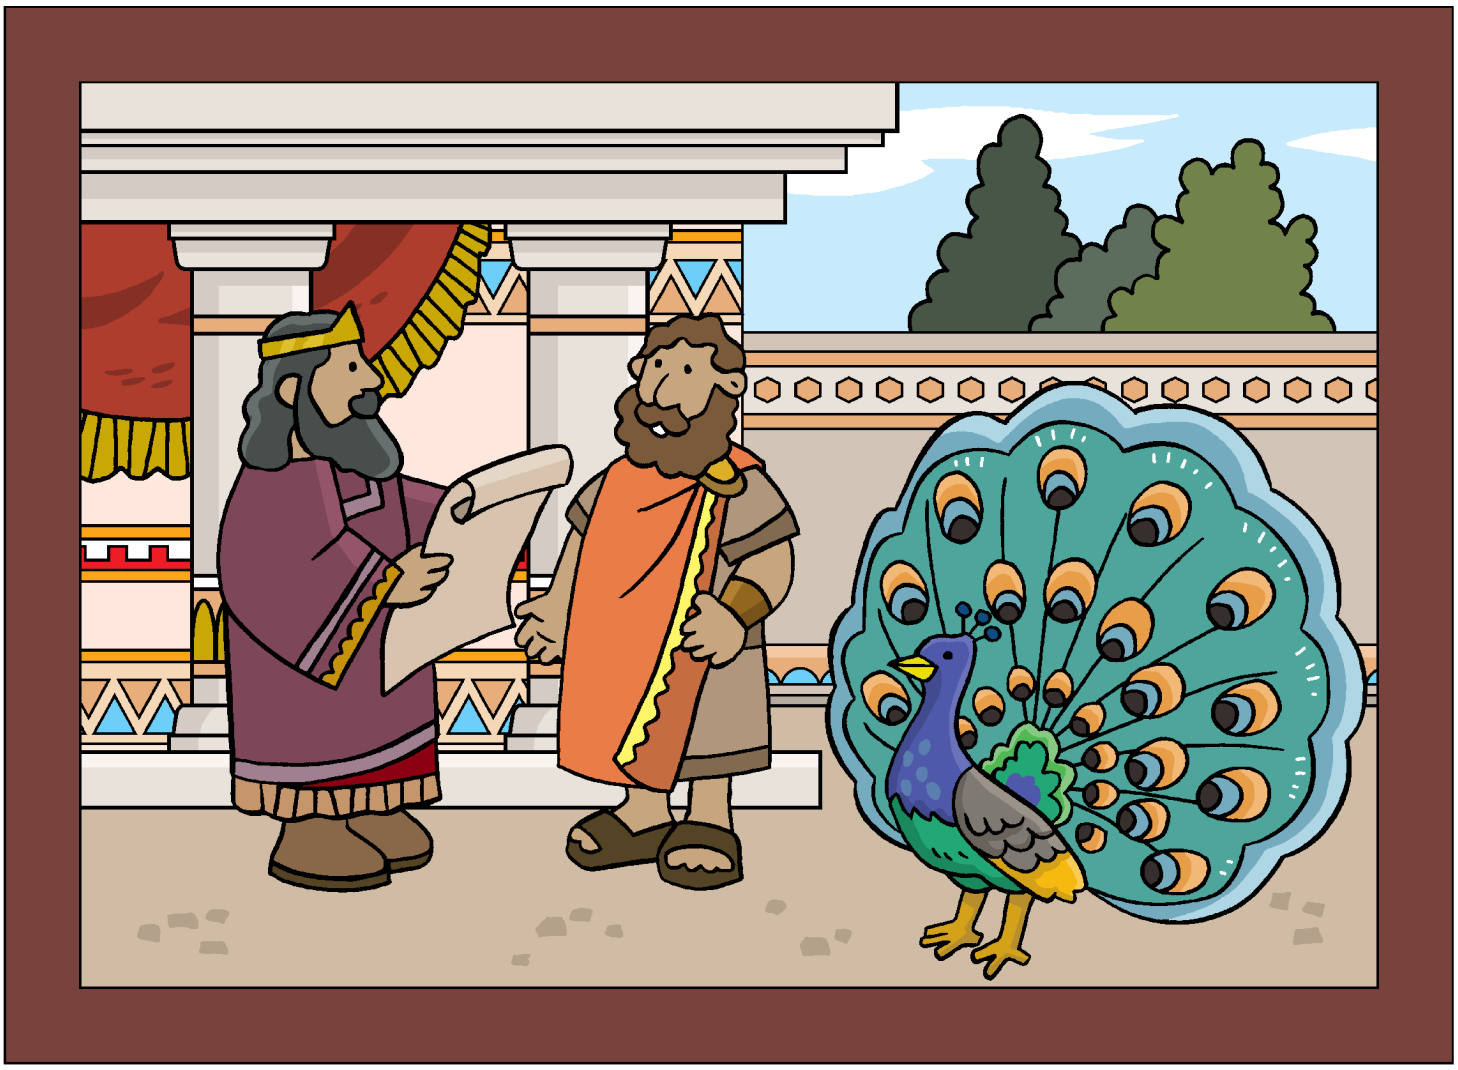
God asked Job: “Did you give the goodly (beautiful) wings unto the peacocks?” (Paraphrased from the King James Version of Job 39:13.)

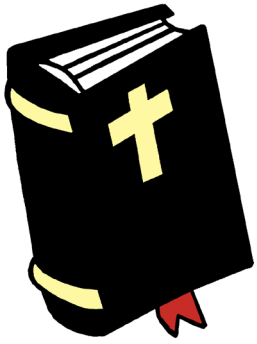


Illustrations by Didier Martin - Copyright © 2024 by Didier Martin
www.mylittlehouse.org - https://blog-mylittlehouse.weebly.com/
Permission granted to print for personal use only. Distribution is prohibited.



parts for the frame



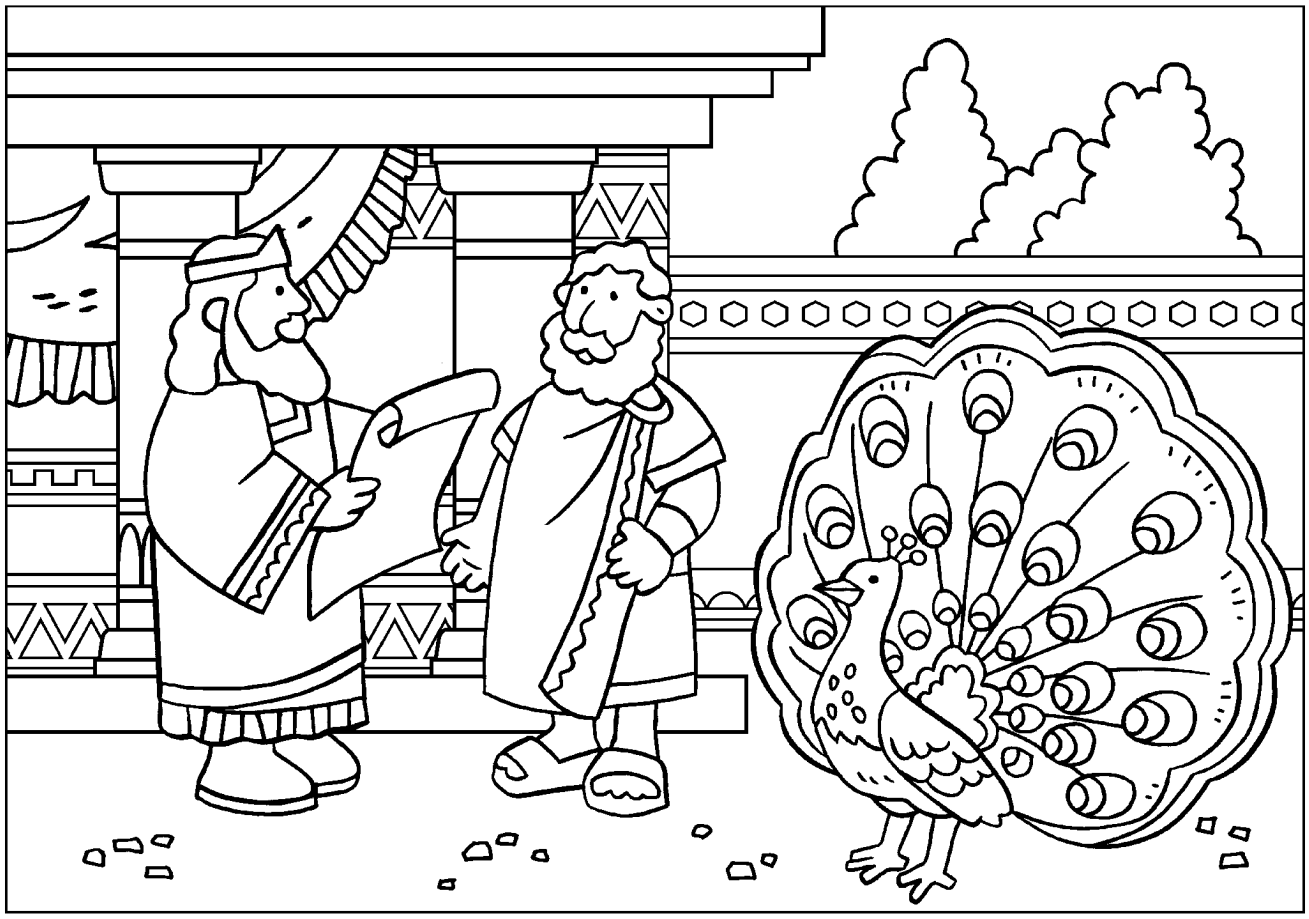


Birds in the Bible – Peacock

A peacock—as portrayed in this picture—is a male peafowl. The female is known as a peahen, and the chicks are called peachicks.
Peacocks have been known throughout history for their beautiful display of tail feathers.

The peacock is mentioned in the Bible in the time of Solomon, explaining that King Solomon would send his vessels to distant countries, which would return every three years carrying precious or unusual goods such as gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks. (1 Kings 10:22.)

God asked Job: “Did you give the goodly (beautiful) wings unto the peacocks?” (Paraphrased from the King James Version of Job 39:13.)



Birds in the Bible – Peacock

A peacock—as portrayed in this picture—is a male peafowl. The female is known as a peahen, and the chicks are called peachicks.
Peacocks have been known throughout history for their beautiful display of tail feathers.

The peacock is mentioned in the Bible in the time of Solomon, explaining that King Solomon would send his vessels to distant countries, which would return every three years carrying precious or unusual goods such as gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks. (1 Kings 10:22.)

God asked Job: “Did you give the goodly (beautiful) wings unto the peacocks?” (Paraphrased from the King James Version of Job 39:13.)