

The stranger on the road to Emmaus

After Jesus' death and His resurrection, while His disciples stayed in Jerusalem, two of His followers were returning home to Emmaus, sad and weary, discussing all that had happened.

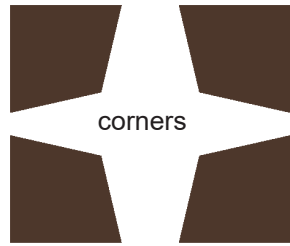

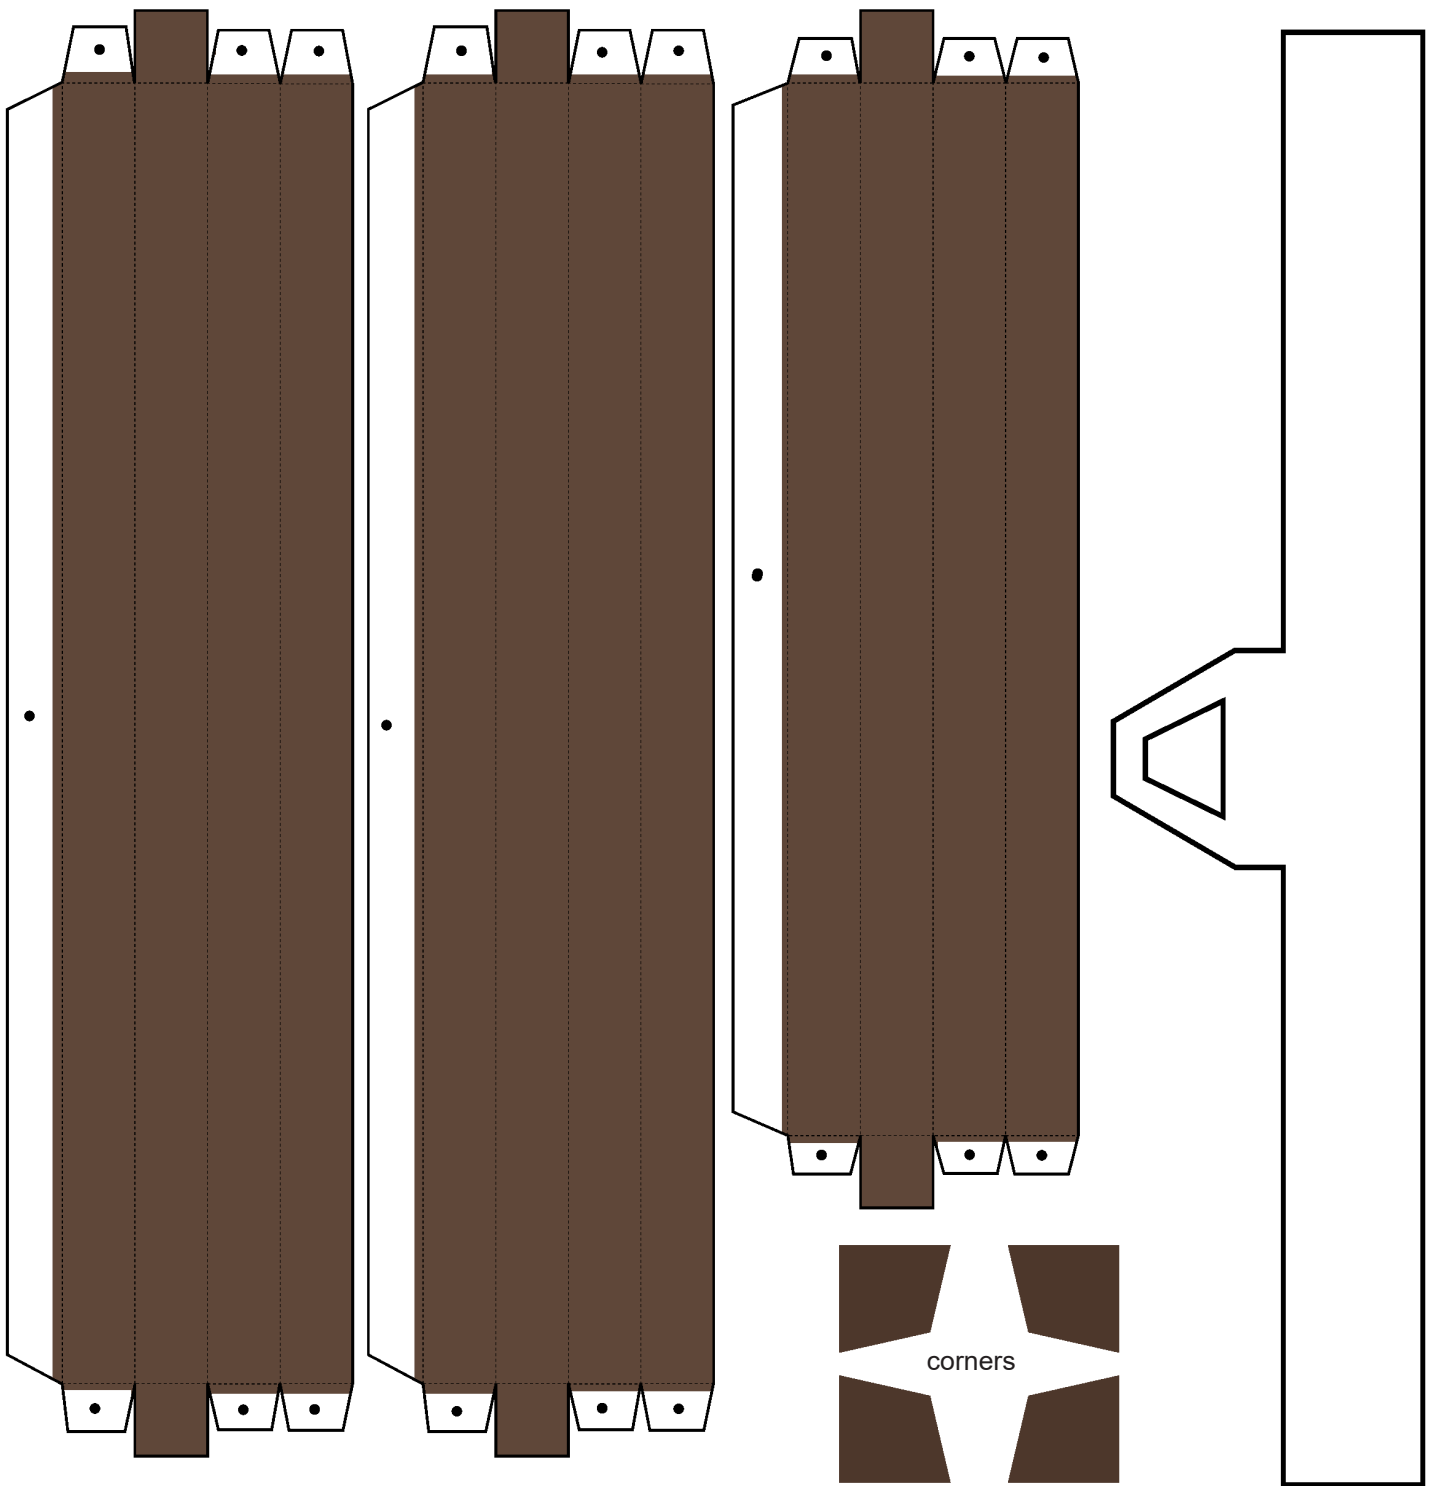

While they walked, another man joined them. "Why are you so sad?" he asked. One of them, Cleopas, answered, "Are you a stranger here? You haven't heard all that happened in Jerusalem?" They then told the stranger about Jesus, how He had died, and how some women had seen an angel that told them that Jesus was alive.

Then the stranger quoted to them from the Scriptures the prophecies concerning this man, Jesus. When they arrived in Emmaus, they said to the stranger, "Please stay at our house, since it is late." As they began the evening meal, the stranger took the bread, blessed it and broke it, then gave each one a piece.

At this instant their eyes were opened and they recognized that the man was Jesus, and suddenly He disappeared. The two men were so happy that they ran back to Jerusalem to tell the disciples that Jesus was truly alive and they had seen Him.

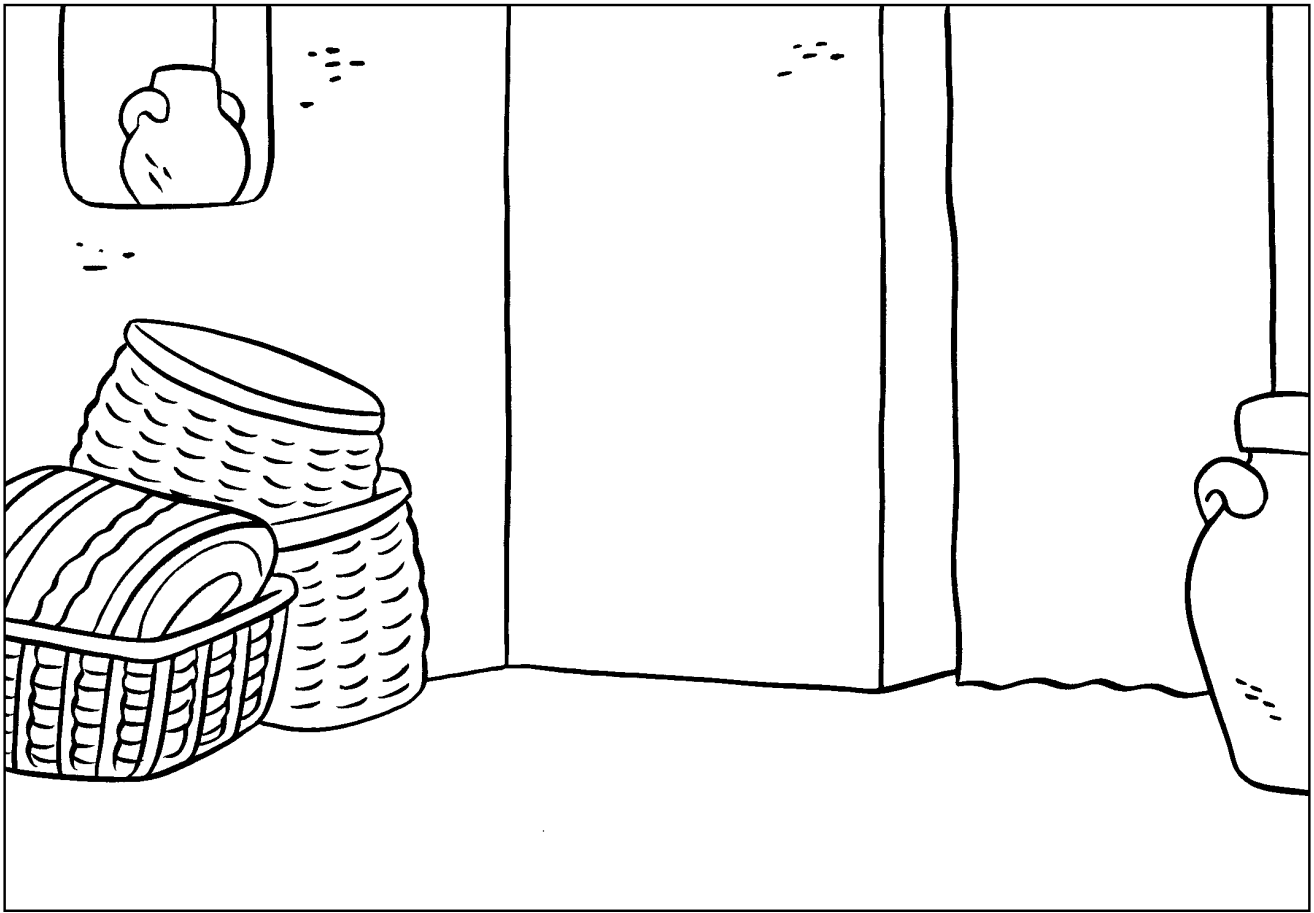

You can read this story in Luke, chapter 24, verses 12 through 35.

parts for the frame

part to glue on the back

The stranger on the road to Emmaus

After Jesus' death and His resurrection, while His disciples stayed in Jerusalem, two of His followers were returning home to Emmaus, sad and weary, discussing all that had happened.

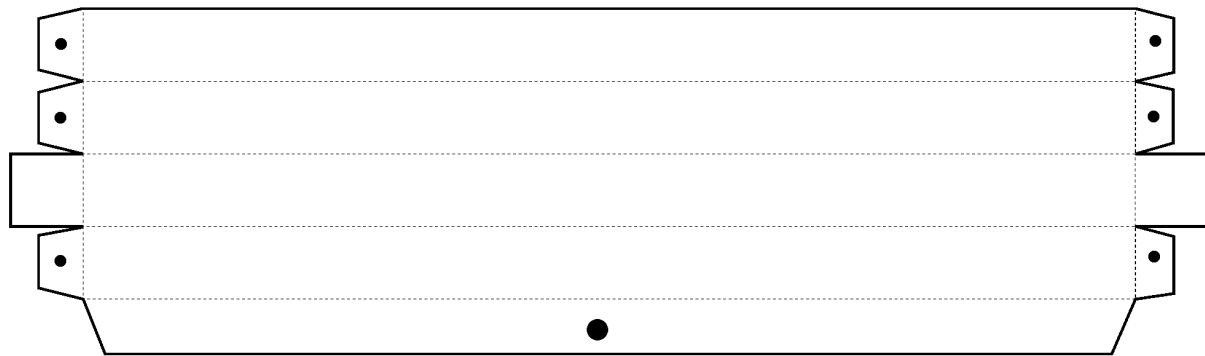

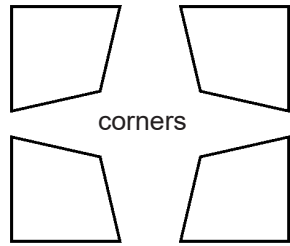

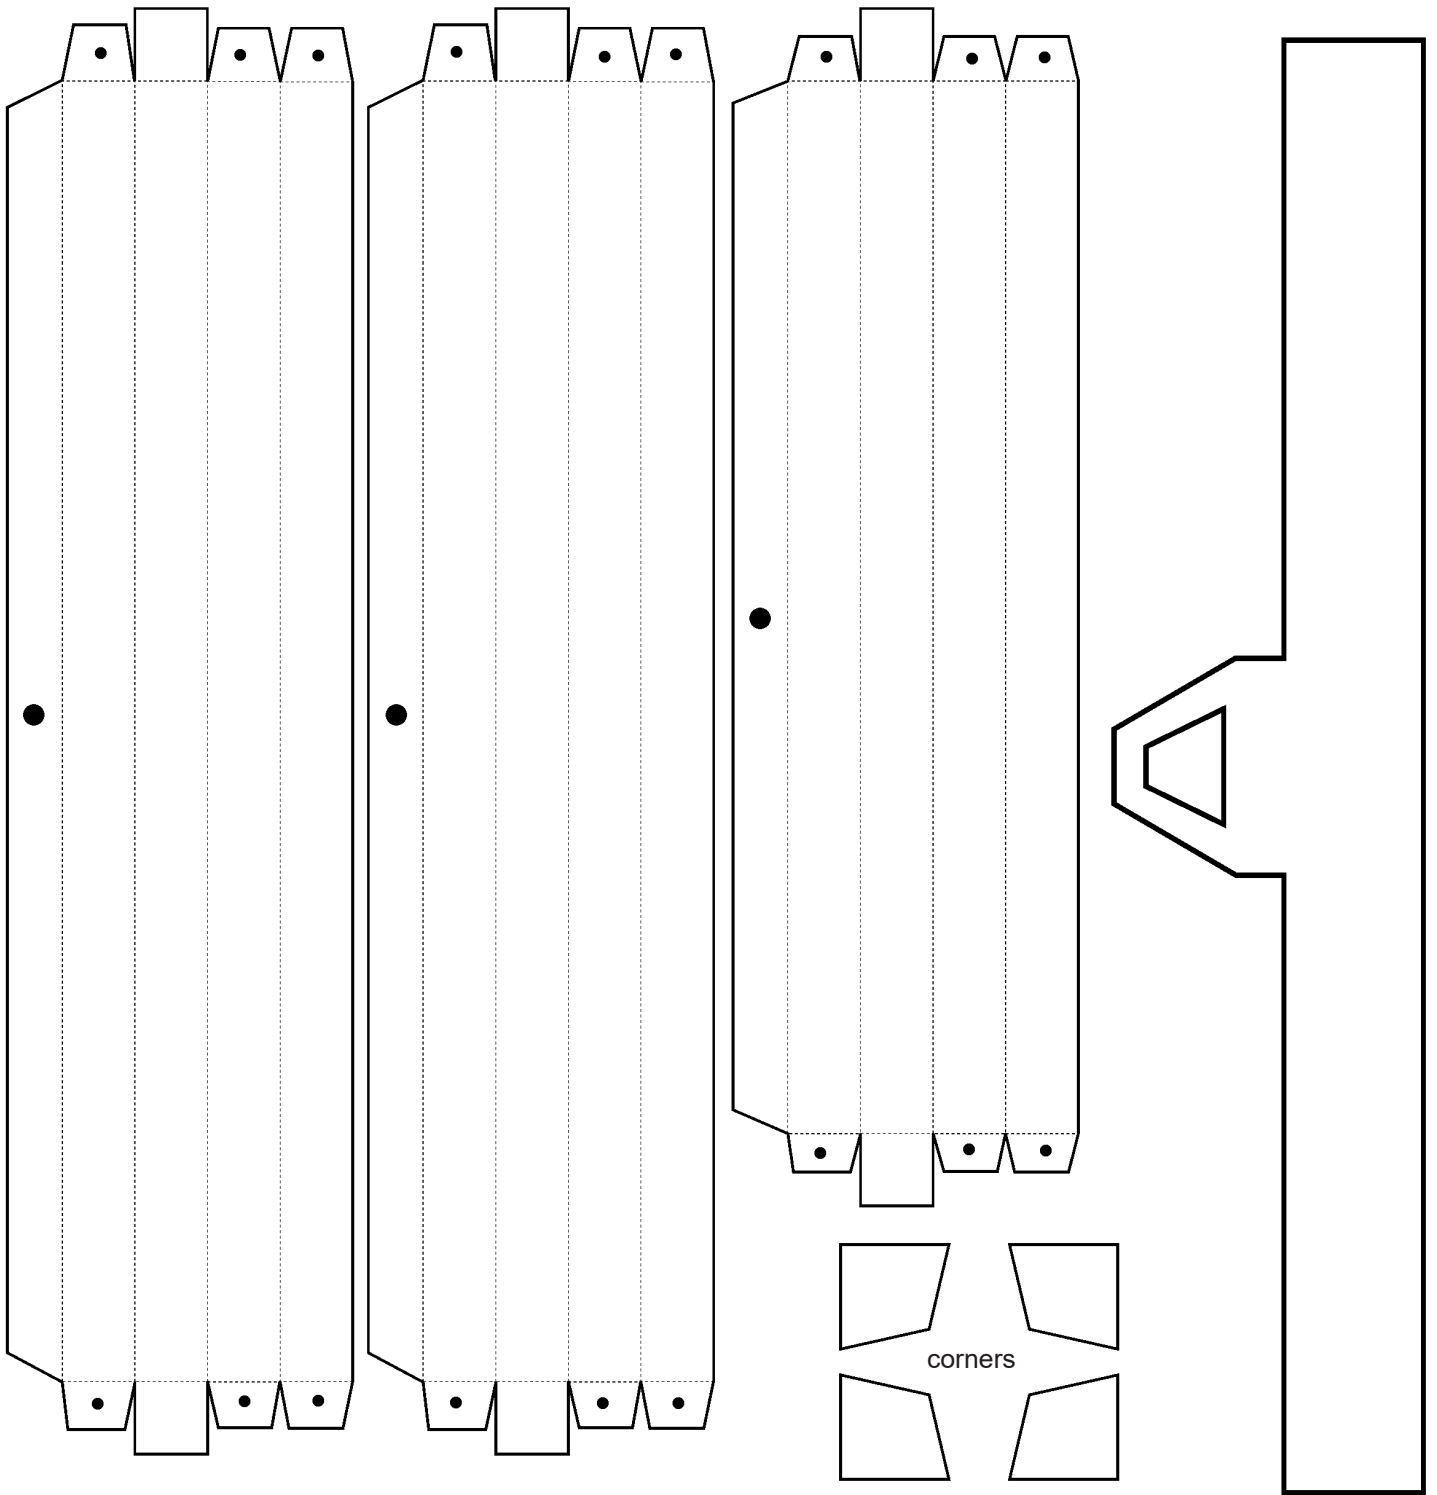

While they walked, another man joined them. "Why are you so sad?" he asked. One of them, Cleopas, answered, "Are you a stranger here? You haven't heard all that happened in Jerusalem?" They then told the stranger about Jesus, how He had died, and how some women had seen an angel that told them that Jesus was alive.

Then the stranger quoted to them from the Scriptures the prophecies concerning this man, Jesus. When they arrived in Emmaus, they said to the stranger, "Please stay at our house, since it is late." As they began the evening meal, the stranger took the bread, blessed it and broke it, then gave each one a piece.

At this instant their eyes were opened and they recognized that the man was Jesus, and suddenly He disappeared. The two men were so happy that they ran back to Jerusalem to tell the disciples that Jesus was truly alive and they had seen Him.

You can read this story in Luke, chapter 24, verses 12 through 35.

part to glue on the back

parts for the frame

The stranger on the road to Emmaus

After Jesus' death and His resurrection, while His disciples stayed in Jerusalem, two of His followers were returning home to Emmaus, sad and weary, discussing all that had happened.

While they walked, another man joined them. "Why are you so sad?" he asked. One of them, Cleopas, answered, "Are you a stranger here? You haven't heard all that happened in Jerusalem?" They then told the stranger about Jesus, how He had died, and how some women had seen an angel that told them that Jesus was alive.

Then the stranger quoted to them from the Scriptures the prophecies concerning this man, Jesus. When they arrived in Emmaus, they said to the stranger, "Please stay at our house, since it is late." As they began the evening meal, the stranger took the bread, blessed it and broke it, then gave each one a piece.

At this instant their eyes were opened and they recognized that the man was Jesus, and suddenly He disappeared. The two men were so happy that they ran back to Jerusalem to tell the disciples that Jesus was truly alive and they had seen him.

You can read this story in Luke, chapter 24, verses 12 through 35.

The stranger on the road to Emmaus

After Jesus' death and His resurrection, while His disciples stayed in Jerusalem, two of His followers were returning home to Emmaus, sad and weary, discussing all that had happened.

While they walked, another man joined them. "Why are you so sad?" he asked. One of them, Cleopas, answered, "Are you a stranger here? You haven't heard all that happened in Jerusalem?" They then told the stranger about Jesus, how He had died, and how some women had seen an angel that told them that Jesus was alive.

Then the stranger quoted to them from the Scriptures the prophecies concerning this man, Jesus. When they arrived in Emmaus, they said to the stranger, "Please stay at our house, since it is late." As they began the evening meal, the stranger took the bread, blessed it and broke it, then gave each one a piece.

At this instant their eyes were opened and they recognized that the man was Jesus, and suddenly He disappeared. The two men were so happy that they ran back to Jerusalem to tell the disciples that Jesus was truly alive and they had seen Him.

You can read this story in Luke, chapter 24, verses 12 through 35.