Animals in the Bible - Camels

Camels are mentioned many times in the Bible; being the owner of many camels was a symbol of wealth, prosperity, or blessing (Isaiah 60:6; Job 1:3).

Camels were used as beasts of burden (Genesis 37:25). Camels are capable of covering many kilometers without needing to eat or drink; their long legs are perfectly designed for walking across the desert sand. The hide and hair of the camels were used to make tents and clothing (Matthew 3:4). Even camel milk was a foundational element of food.

In the New Testament, Jesus refers to the camel to highlight the impossibility of certain things: "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God" (Matthew 19:24 KJV). He also uses it to expose the hypocrisy of the Pharisees: "Blind leaders of the blind, you strain a gnat* out of your drink but swallow a camel!" (Matthew 23:24, paraphrased).
