

A Young Shepherd to Be King

Due to Saul's disobedience, God sent Samuel to choose a new king for Israel. Samuel was to go to Bethlehem and offer a sacrifice to God along with Jesse one of the leaders of the city. God promised to show Samuel the man to be the new king.

When Jesse came with his sons, Samuel saw one of his sons, Eliab, and said to himself, surely this is the one. But the Lord said, "Pay no attention to how tall and handsome he is, because I do not judge as people judge. They look at the outward appearance, but I look at the heart."

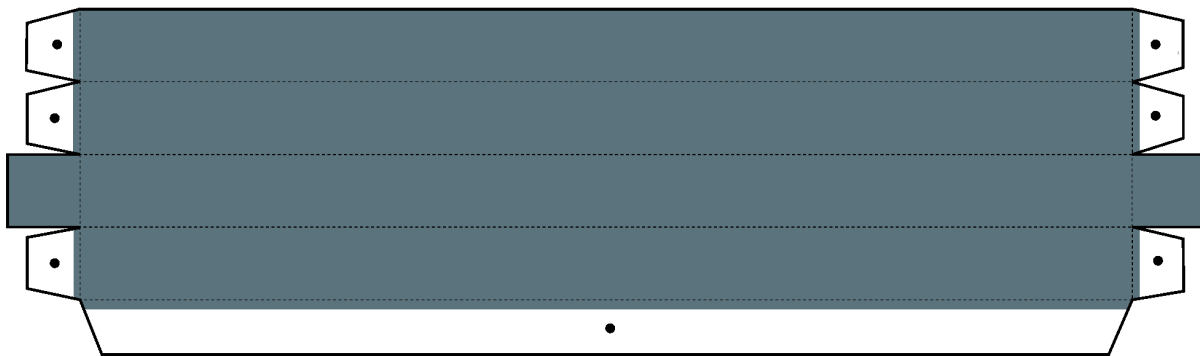

Jesse brought seven of his sons to meet Samuel, but none were God's choice. Samuel then asked Jesse, "Do you have another son?" Jesse replied, "I have one more, the youngest. He's taking care of the sheep." Jesse then called his youngest son, David, to come. When Samuel saw David, the Lord spoke to him, "This is the one. Anoint him as the new king." And immediately the spirit of God was with David from that day on.
