

Healing of the Lame Man

Soon after receiving the gift of the Holy Spirit, Jesus' disciples began to share the Good News about Jesus, God's Son, with everyone in Jerusalem. Many people from diverse parts of the world had come to Jerusalem to celebrate Pentecost. After hearing Peter explain about Jesus, approximately three thousand people accepted Jesus as their Savior. What a miracle! (Acts chapter 2, verses 4 through 41.)

Later, Peter and John went together to the Temple for the hour of prayer. By the Temple gate sat a man who was paralyzed in his legs since birth, who daily begged at the gate. As Peter and John pass by, he asked them for some money, but Peter answered:

"I have no silver or gold, but what I have, that I give to you. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, get up on your feet." And straight away he was healed. He jumped up and went into the Temple with Peter and John, praising God for the miracle. (Acts chapter 3, verses 1 through 10.)
