

Miriam and Baby Moses

Long ago, the Hebrews had become slaves in Egypt. The Pharaoh of Egypt feared that the Hebrew slaves were becoming too numerous and would one day revolt against the Egyptians. Therefore he ordered that all newborn Hebrew boys be killed.

But one woman disobeyed pharaoh. To save her baby boy from the soldiers, she put him in a basket and placed him in the river, praying for God to save her baby. Miriam, the baby's older sister, stood some distance away to watch what would happen with her baby brother.

Pharaoh's daughter came to the river to bathe when the basket came floating by. The Egyptian princess opened the basket and saw a baby crying. Miriam approached the princess and asked, "Should I go and call a Hebrew woman to nurse the baby?"

The princess said, "Please do." And so God saved the Hebrew baby and gave it back to his mother to care for him. The princess named the baby, Moses, and raised him as her son.

You can read this story in Exodus chapter 2, verses 1 to 10.

corners

part to glue on the back

parts for the frame

Miriam and Baby Moses

Long ago, the Hebrews had become slaves in Egypt. The Pharaoh of Egypt feared that the Hebrew slaves were becoming too numerous and would one day revolt against the Egyptians. Therefore he ordered that all newborn Hebrew boys be killed.

But one woman disobeyed pharaoh. To save her baby boy from the soldiers, she put him in a basket and placed him in the river, praying for God to save her baby. Miriam, the baby's older sister, stood some distance away to watch what would happen with her baby brother.

Pharaoh's daughter came to the river to bathe when the basket came floating by. The Egyptian princess opened the basket and saw a baby crying. Miriam approached the princess and asked, "Should I go and call a Hebrew woman to nurse the baby?"

The princess said, "Please do." And so God saved the Hebrew baby and gave it back to his mother to care for him. The princess named the baby, Moses, and raised him as her son.

You can read this story in Exodus chapter 2, verses 1 to 10.

corners

part to glue
on the back

parts for the frame

Miriam and Baby Moses

Long ago, the Hebrews had become slaves in Egypt. The Pharaoh of Egypt feared that the Hebrew slaves were becoming too numerous and would one day revolt against the Egyptians. Therefore he ordered that all newborn Hebrew boys be killed.

But one woman disobeyed pharaoh. To save her baby boy from the soldiers, she put him in a basket and placed him in the river, praying for God to save her baby. Miriam, the baby's older sister, stood some distance away to watch what would happen with her baby brother.

Pharaoh's daughter came to the river to bathe when the basket came floating by. The Egyptian princess opened the basket and saw a baby crying. Miriam approached the princess and asked, "Should I go and call a Hebrew woman to nurse the baby?"

The princess said, "Please do." And so God saved the Hebrew baby and gave it back to his mother to care for him. The princess named the baby, Moses, and raised him as her son.

You can read this story in Exodus chapter 2, verses 1 to 10.

Miriam and Baby Moses

Long ago, the Hebrews had become slaves in Egypt. The Pharaoh of Egypt feared that the Hebrew slaves were becoming too numerous and would one day revolt against the Egyptians. Therefore he ordered that all newborn Hebrew boys be killed.

But one woman disobeyed pharaoh. To save her baby boy from the soldiers, she put him in a basket and placed him in the river, praying for God to save her baby. Miriam, the baby's older sister, stood some distance away to watch what would happen with her baby brother.

Pharaoh's daughter came to the river to bathe when the basket came floating by. The Egyptian princess opened the basket and saw a baby crying. Miriam approached the princess and asked, "Should I go and call a Hebrew woman to nurse the baby?"

The princess said, "Please do." And so God saved the Hebrew baby and gave it back to his mother to care for him. The princess named the baby, Moses, and raised him as her son.

You can read this story in Exodus chapter 2, verses 1 to 10.