

The city of Nineveh

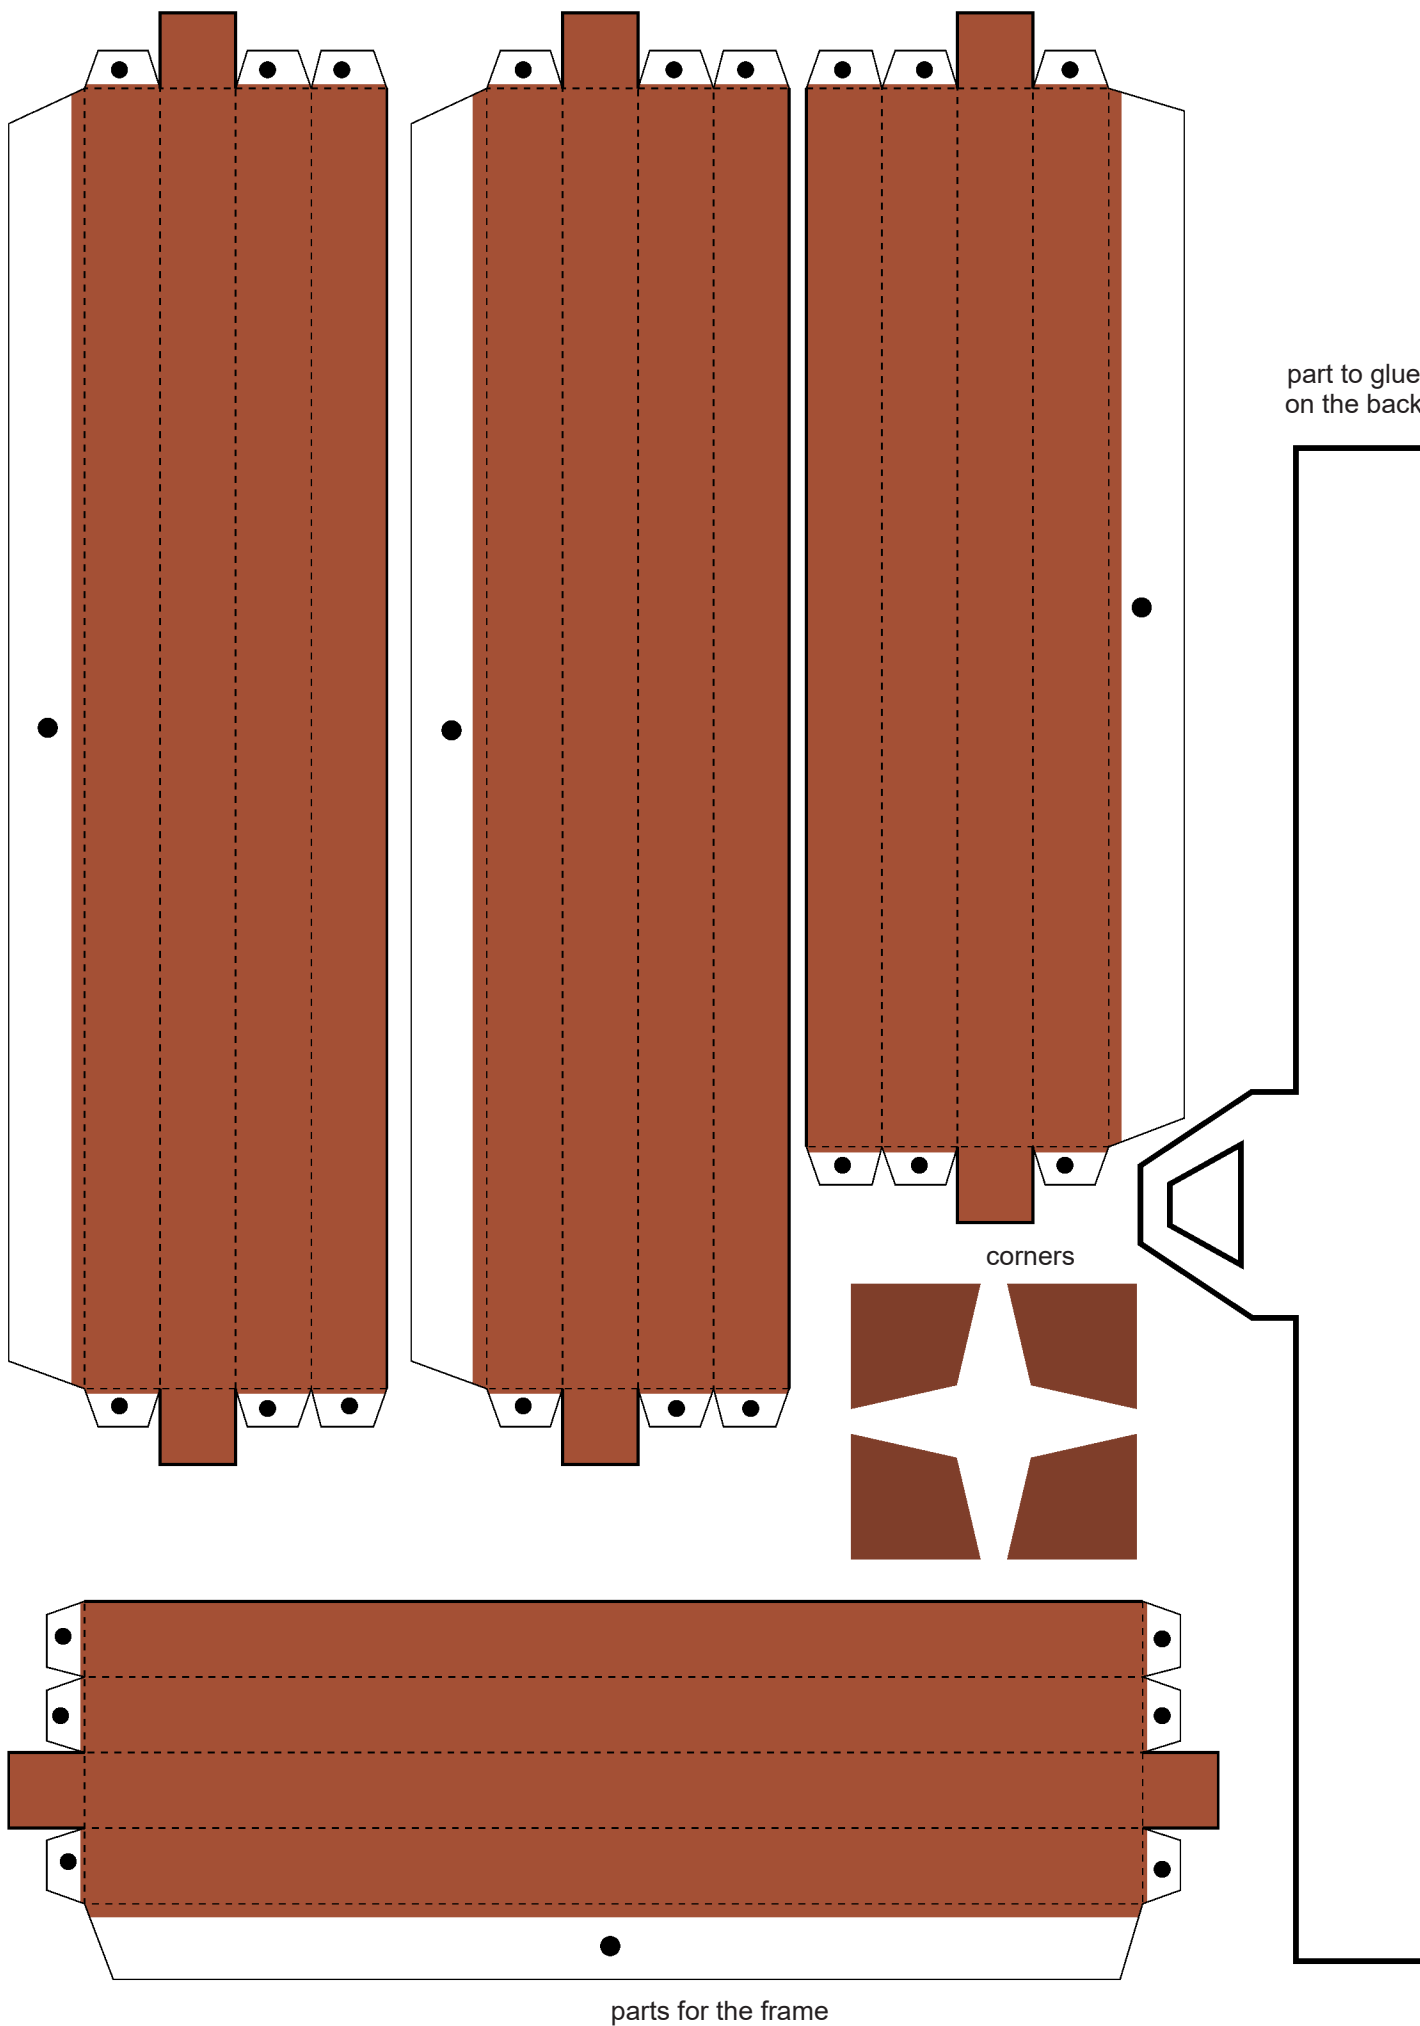

Nineveh was an ancient Assyrian city of Upper Mesopotamia. This city still exists today, located on the outskirts of Mosul in modern-day northern Iraq.

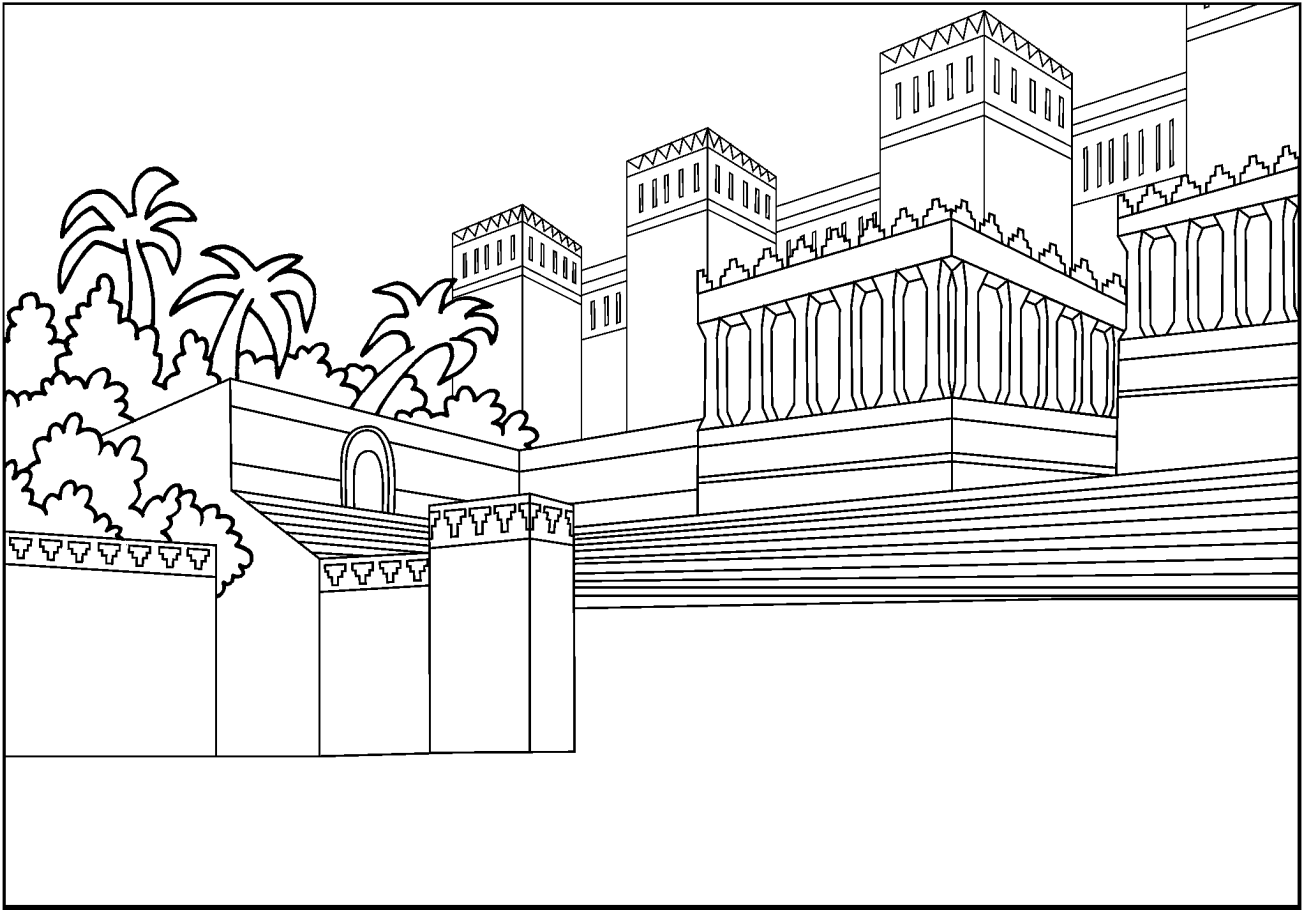

Nineveh was one of the oldest and greatest cities in antiquity. In the Bible, Nineveh is first mentioned in Genesis 10:11. It was the flourishing capital of the Assyrian Empire and was the home of King Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, during the Biblical reign of King Hezekiah and the lifetime of the Judean prophet Isaiah.

The city's Biblical link is also to the prophet Jonah. The city had become wicked, so God sent Jonah to warn the Ninevites of their coming destruction. However the people of Nineveh repented of their evil ways, and as a result, God spared the city.

Read the story of Jonah and the city of Nineveh in the book of Jonah, chapters 1 to 4.

The city of Nineveh

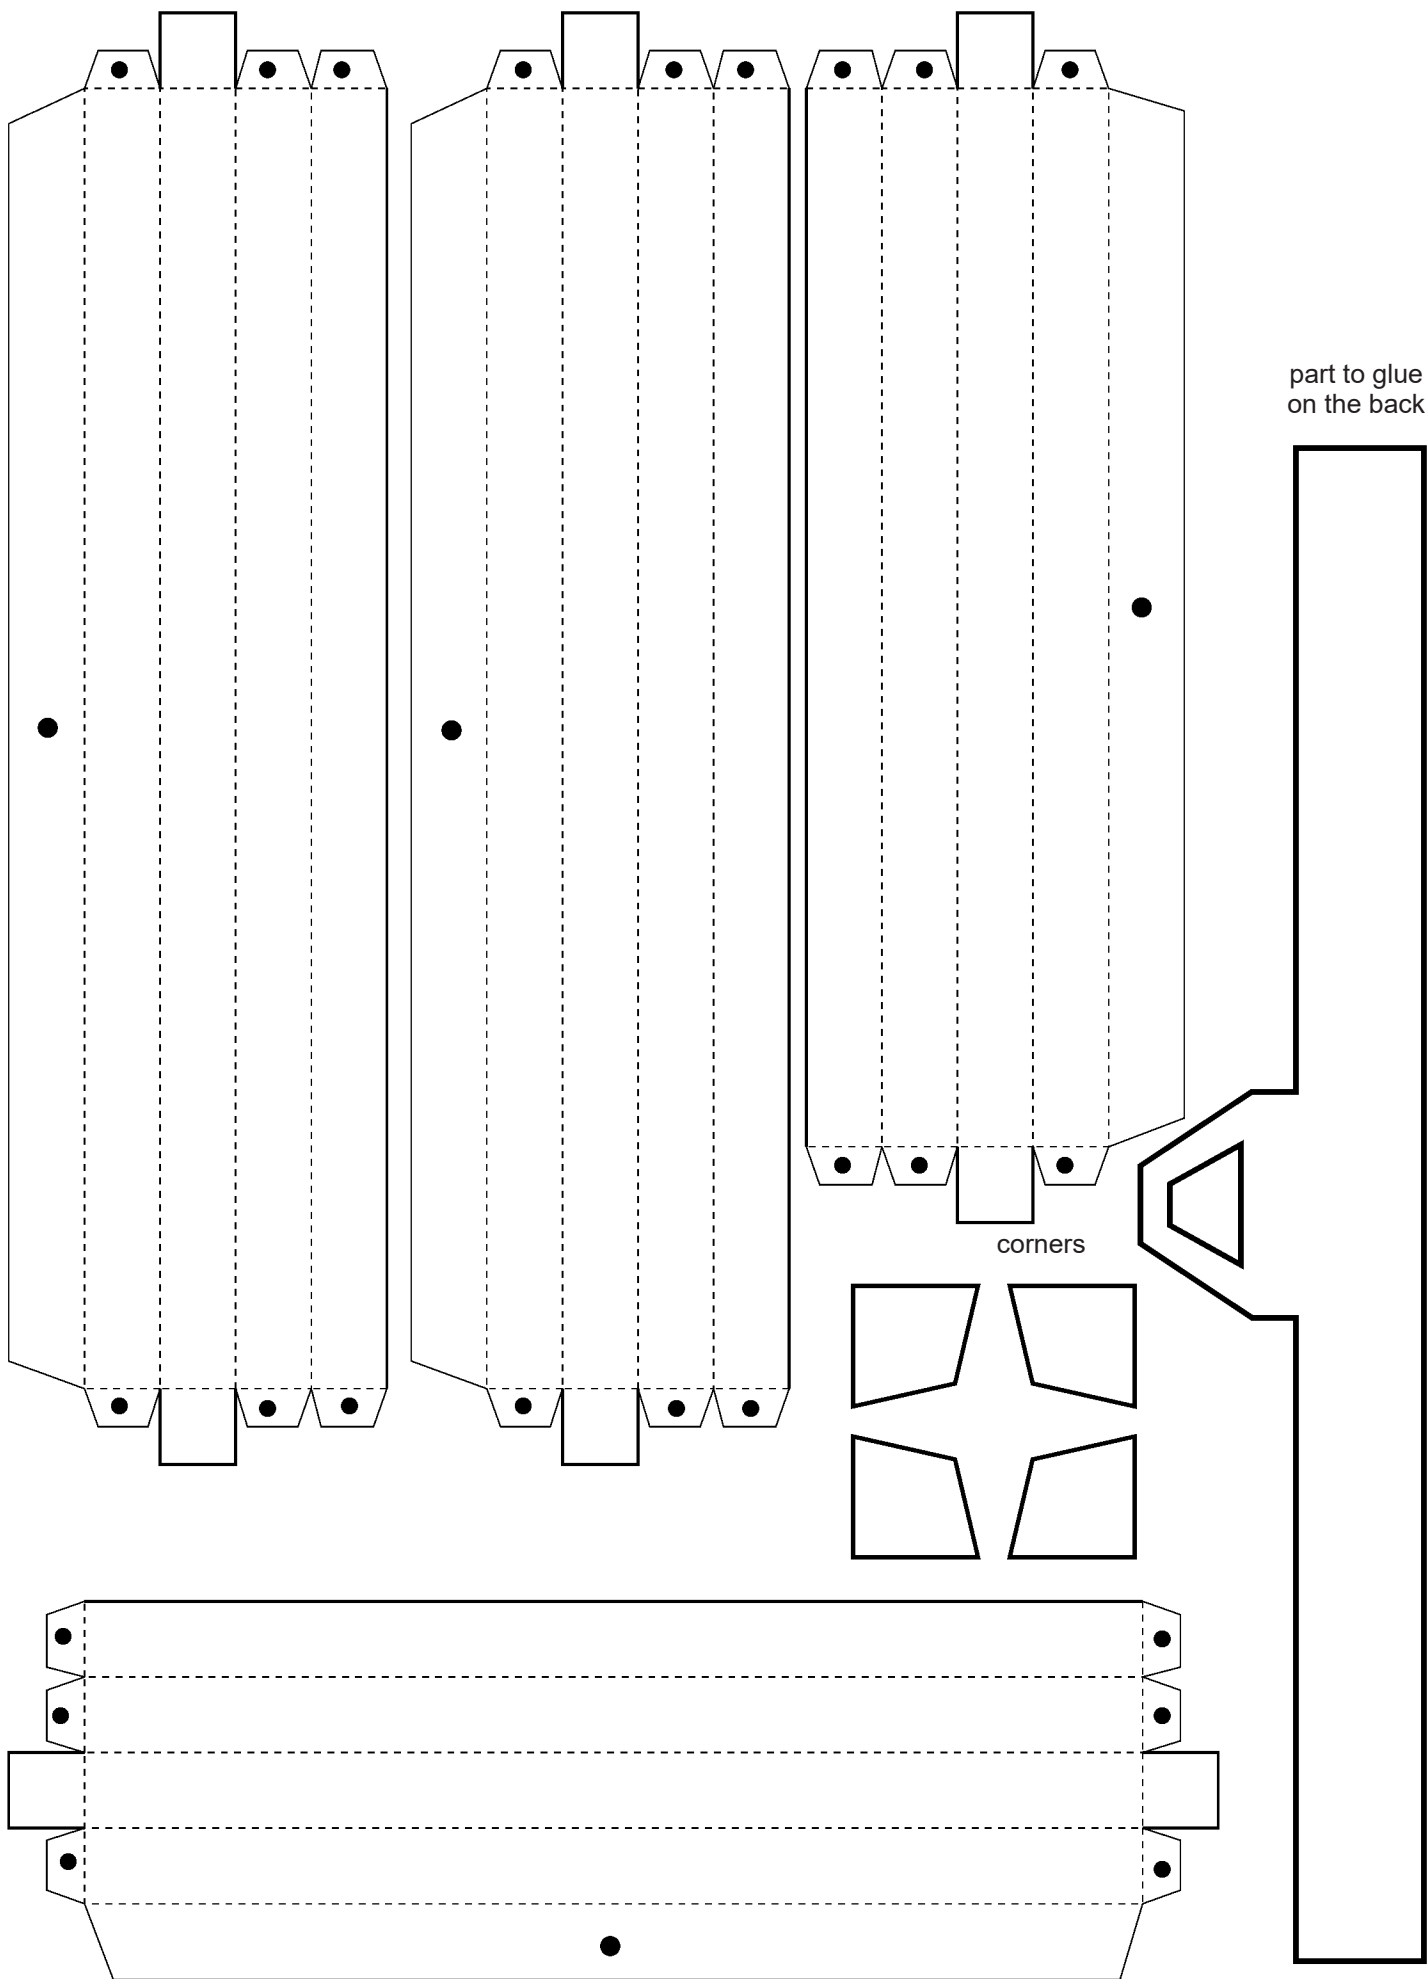

Nineveh was an ancient Assyrian city of Upper Mesopotamia. This city still exists today, located on the outskirts of Mosul in modern-day northern Iraq.

Nineveh was one of the oldest and greatest cities in antiquity. In the Bible, Nineveh is first mentioned in Genesis 10:11. It was the flourishing capital of the Assyrian Empire and was the home of King Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, during the Biblical reign of King Hezekiah and the lifetime of the Judean prophet Isaiah.

The city's Biblical link is also to the prophet Jonah. The city had become wicked, so God sent Jonah to warn the Ninevites of their coming destruction. However the people of Nineveh repented of their evil ways, and as a result, God spared the city.

Read the story of Jonah and the city of Nineveh in the book of Jonah, chapters 1 to 4.

part to glue on the back

corners

parts for the frame

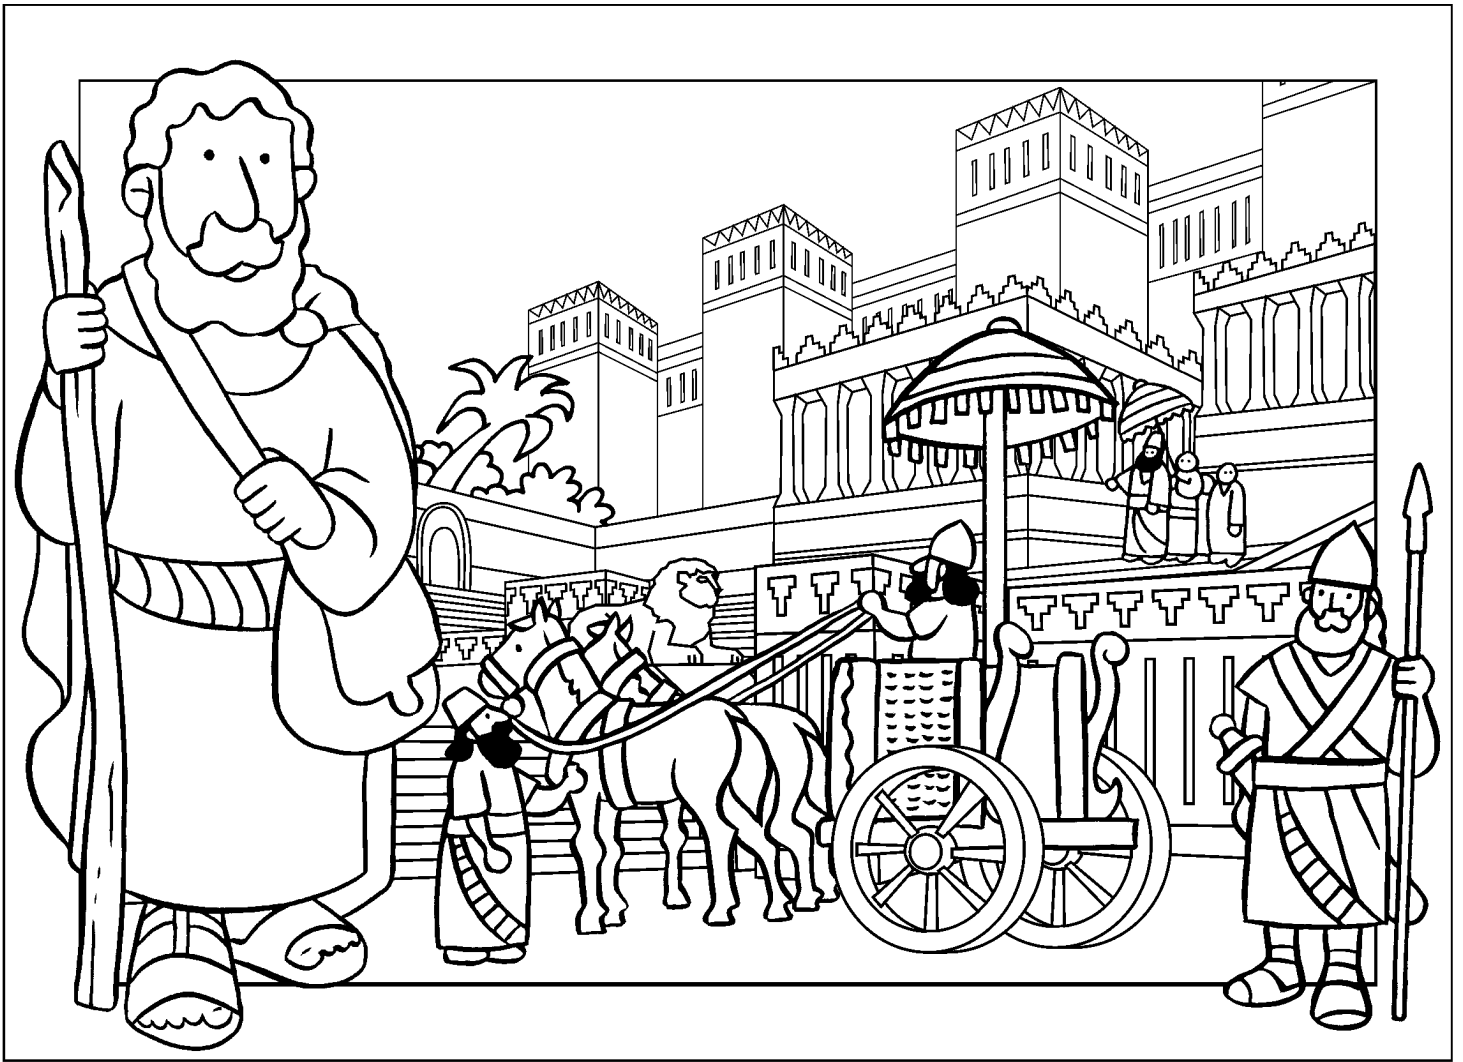

The city of Nineveh

Nineveh was an ancient Assyrian city of Upper Mesopotamia. This city still exists today, located on the outskirts of Mosul in modern-day northern Iraq.

Nineveh was one of the oldest and greatest cities in antiquity. In the Bible, Nineveh is first mentioned in Genesis 10:11. It was the flourishing capital of the Assyrian Empire and was the home of King Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, during the Biblical reign of King Hezekiah and the lifetime of the Judean prophet Isaiah.

The city's Biblical link is also to the prophet Jonah. The city had become wicked, so God sent Jonah to warn the Ninevites of their coming destruction. However the people of Nineveh repented of their evil ways, and as a result, God spared the city.

Read the story of Jonah and the city of Nineveh in the book of Jonah, chapters 1 to 4.

The city of Nineveh

Nineveh was an ancient Assyrian city of Upper Mesopotamia. This city still exists today, located on the outskirts of Mosul in modern-day northern Iraq.

Nineveh was one of the oldest and greatest cities in antiquity. In the Bible, Nineveh is first mentioned in Genesis 10:11. It was the flourishing capital of the Assyrian Empire and was the home of King Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, during the Biblical reign of King Hezekiah and the lifetime of the Judean prophet Isaiah.

The city's Biblical link is also to the prophet Jonah. The city had become wicked, so God sent Jonah to warn the Ninevites of their coming destruction. However the people of Nineveh repented of their evil ways, and as a result, God spared the city.

Read the story of Jonah and the city of Nineveh in the book of Jonah, chapters 1 to 4.