

The Parables of Jesus

The Good Samaritan

One time a teacher of the law who was trying to trap Jesus asked Him, “What must I do to receive eternal life?” Jesus answered, “What do the Scripture say?”

The man answered, “Love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your strength, and with all your mind; and Love your neighbor as yourself.” “You are right,” Jesus replied.

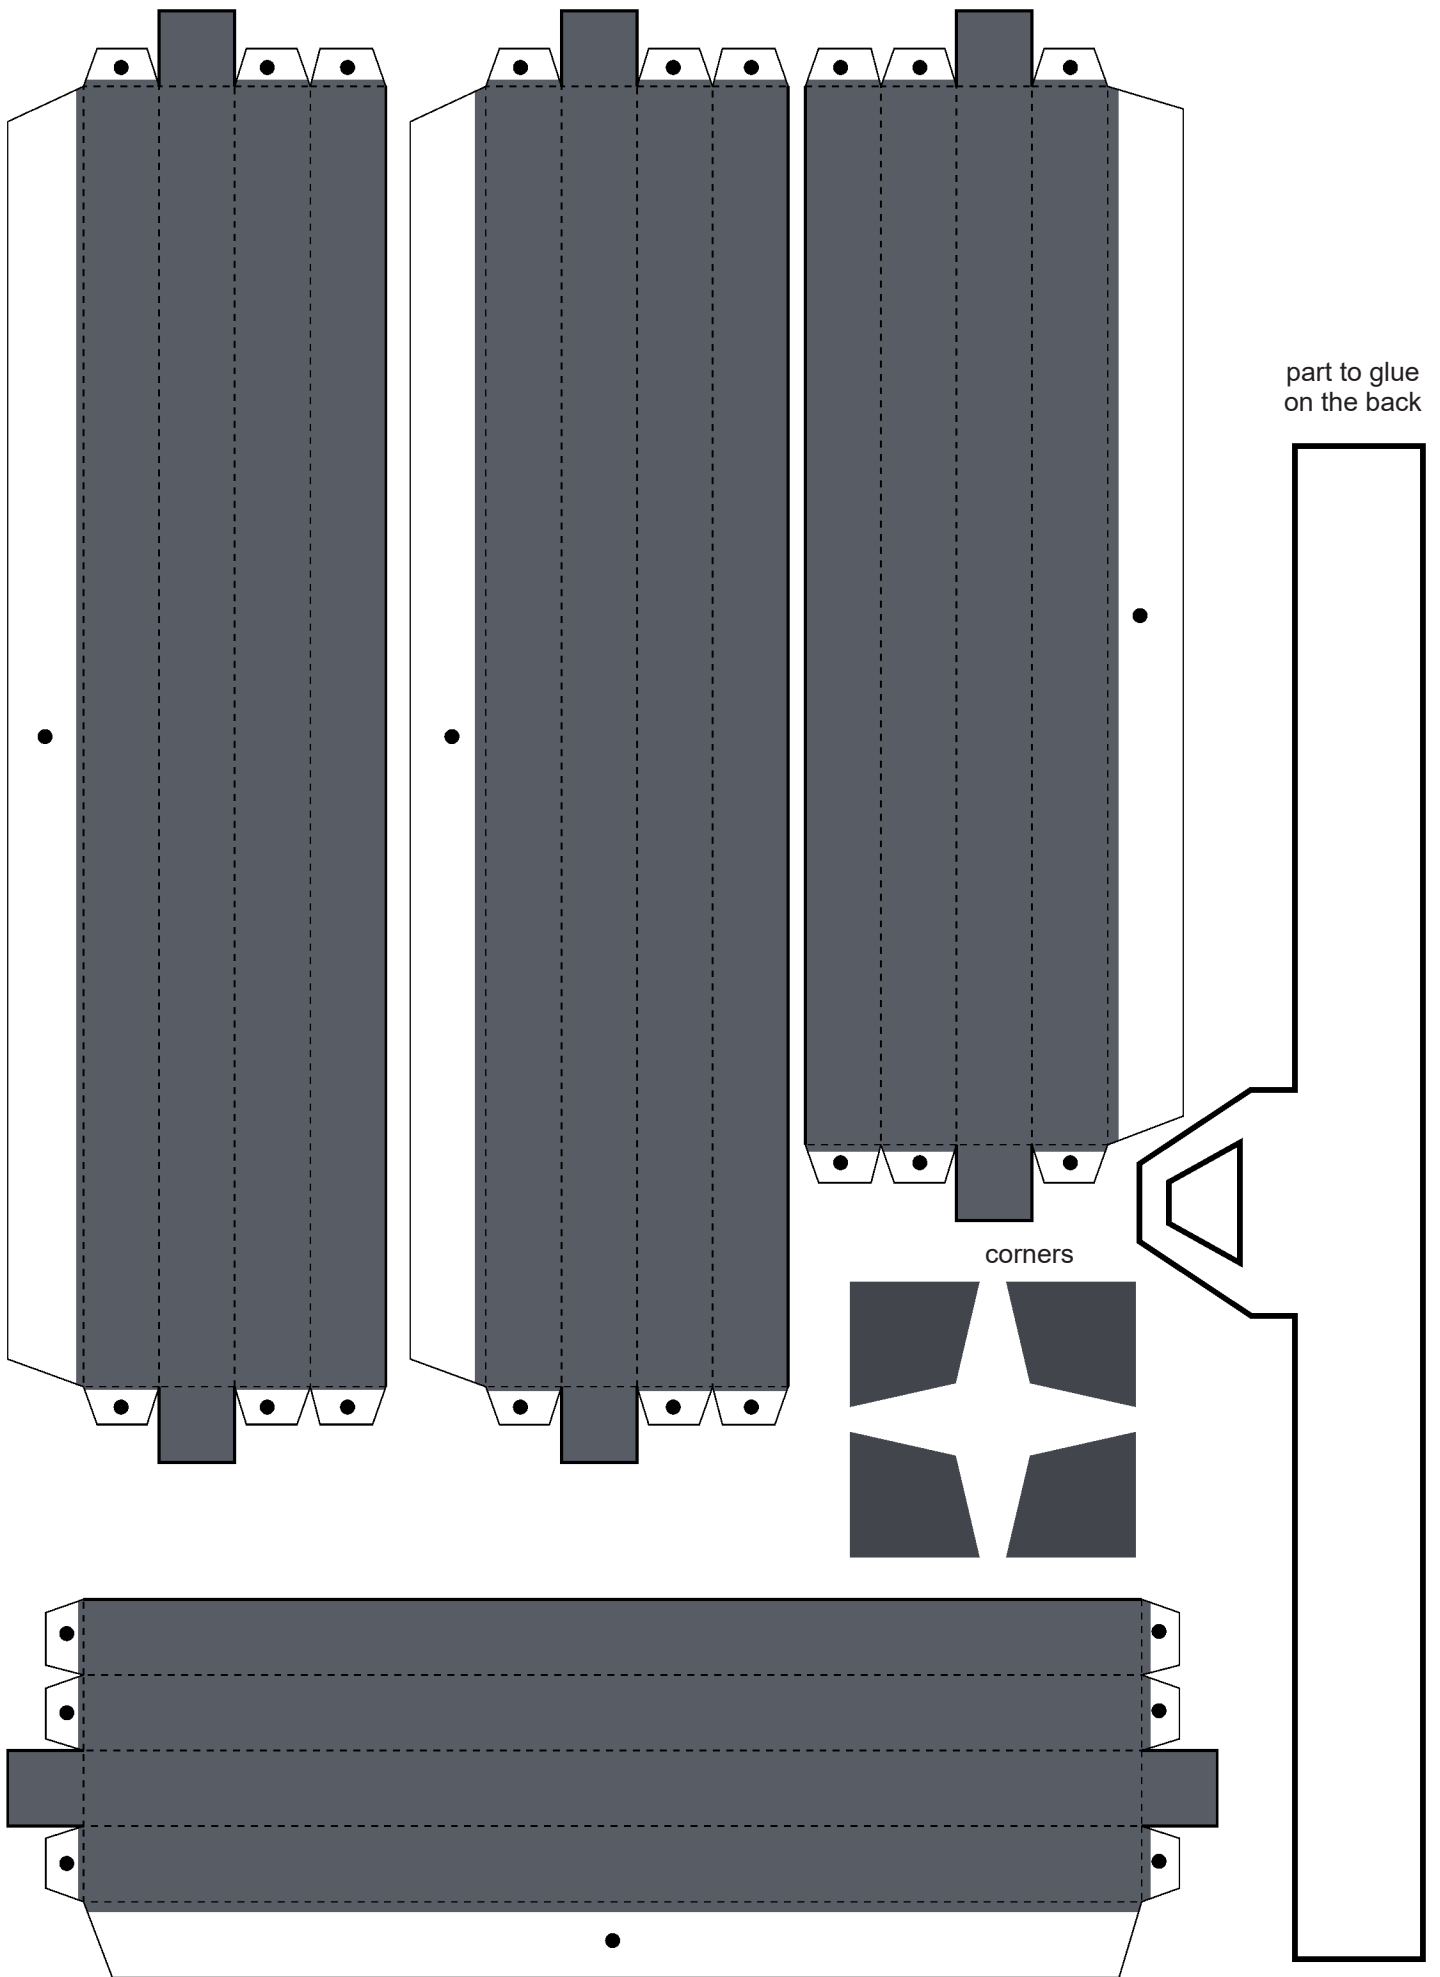

But the man wanting to justify himself asked Jesus, “Who is my neighbor?” So Jesus told him this parable:

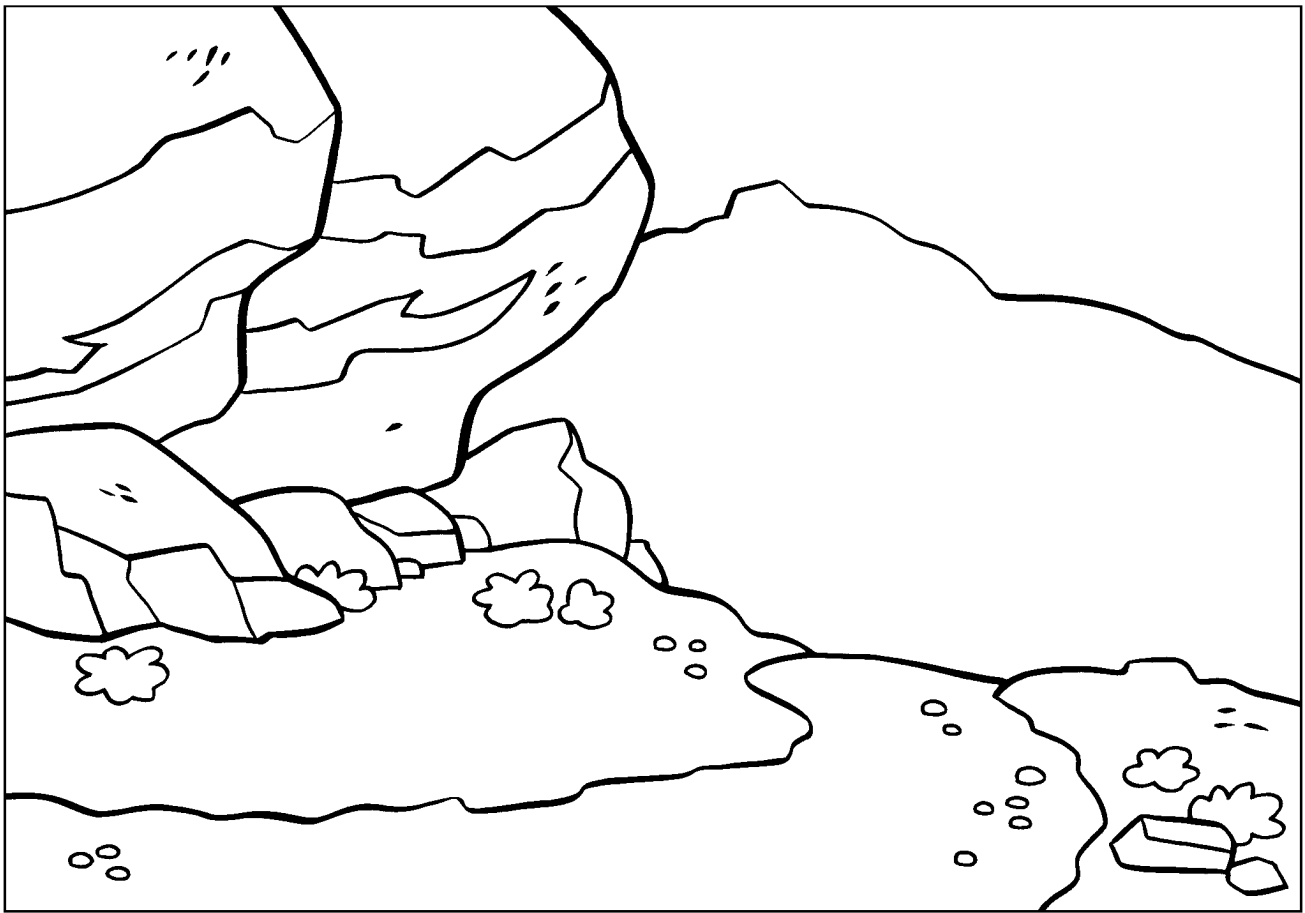

A man on a journey was attacked by robbers and left half dead by the side of the road. A priest passed by, but when he saw the man, he walked the other way. A Levite came by and quickly walked away too. Then a Samaritan man who passed by saw the injured man, and his heart was filled with pity. The Samaritan stopped and helped the wounded man.

Jesus asked the lawyer, “Which of these men acted as a neighbor to the wounded man?” When the lawyer answered, “The man who was kind to him,” Jesus responded, “You should go then and do the same.”

You can read this parable in Luke chapter 10, verses 25 to 37.
